What is the UNCW Annual Fund?

The UNCW Annual Fund runs a student telemarketing program to raise significant funds from alumni and friends for the University of North Carolina Wilmington. These funds are used to increase academic excellence by providing scholarships, internships, classroom materials, research, funds for operations and much more.

What is the Incentive Program?

The mission of the Incentive Program is to foster a healthy, enjoyable work environment for the students working at the Annual Fund Phonathon. The Incentive Program solicits donations by phone and mail. We ask for gifts of cash, gift certificates, promotional items, food and merchandise from businesses. These items are used as motivation to get student employees to surpass the goals set for the campaign year. These items are also used to reward our students for attaining individual goals, completing outstanding calls, and going above and beyond their job duties.

If I donate, what's in it for me?

All gifts to UNCW are tax deductible; however, we offer more than just a tax deduction. In return for your gift, we help foster business growth. Students make up a sizable percentage of business dollars spent locally. Unfortunately, many students are unaware of the rich variety of shops, markets, offices and stores around the Wilmington area. We advertise your donation and establishment to all students at UNCW, as well as faculty, staff, alumni and visitors through various means. When you donate to the Incentive Program, your business will be known. Please see the Description of Benefits section.
